Types of work performed by GENERAL VOLUNTEERS in this category:

Volunteers exercise and train dogs; interact with cats and keep them socialized; clean dog and cat kennels; work in the Medical Center as assistants to Registered Veterinary Technicians and veterinarians (holding animals, cleaning instruments and work areas, helping with treatments and procedures); conduct administrative duties such as inputting information into the computer for medical personnel, submitting Pet of the Week information to various publications, keep photos updated in the DAS website, make up adoption flyers for display to showcase adoptable animals, keep forms and reports volunteers use updated daily; groom dogs and cats; work public education booths in community events.

Each fiscal year the medical department provides hands-on training for students seeking careers in the veterinary/animal field. Throughout the year we except students from the Mesa College Animal Heath Technology program, the PIMA Medical Institute Veterinary Assistant program and from several Veterinary Assistant Regional Occupation Programs (ROP). These students average between 150 and 240 hours per internship in one of our three medical centers. These students work directly under the supervision of our Registered Veterinary Technicians (RVT) and assist with our wellness programs, perform laboratory tests, administer medications, and assist the Veterinarians (DVM) with medical examinations.

General volunteers spend the bulk of their hours socializing dogs, cats and rabbits. Activities include exercising the animals, and more importantly, spending one-on-one time with them.
